

'Meet the Mentor' - Dr Karl Jandrey

"XSM have committed to making our programme as successful as possible for VECCS. They have responded to the unique challenges that we face in the veterinary profession particularly in terms of time commitment for busy professionals."

Dr Chris Gray VetMB, MA, MBA, MRCVS, CEO, Veterinary Emergency and Critical Care Society

Mentoring stories are invaluable in promoting mentoring as part of personal and professional development. Mentoring is a core member benefit for VECCS members. Our mini-series of videos seeks to introduce some of the VECCS Mentors to members throughout the world. Dr Karl Jandrey is a VECCS Mentor and Associate Dean of the Davis School of Veterinary Medicine at the University of California.

"Being a champion for someone often doesn't take a lot of energy, or a lot of time"
Dr Karl Jandrey

How important is mentoring (for the development of the profession)?

<https://youtu.be/-iLPQsSsW6-g>

Why Mentor?

<https://youtu.be/sWB-eF3hz54>

What was Dr Karl's career path?

<https://youtu.be/Q8diqh9FdiY>

Are career pathways changing?

<https://youtu.be/6JTRiGMTRml>

How can a mentor help your career?

<https://youtu.be/mCUSQvF01R8>

What's the commitment as a mentor?

<https://youtu.be/SL1j9eCvim0>

How can mentees benefit from mentoring?

<https://youtu.be/R3cVqFIdkfY>

What are the key skills of being a mentor?

<https://youtu.be/AwqH6GOD5o0>

What can mentors offer you at different stages of your career?

<https://youtu.be/PShMJitc1TM>

What are the benefits of mentoring within the profession?

<https://youtu.be/7xHW8Vi4GtM>

How you can register as a mentor with VECCS

<https://youtu.be/z4Vymz-QPEU>